

Item Organizer

Item-organizer is a smart storage system that remembers where you put your small parts, so you never have to search again. Just scan an item, store it in any bin, and a "grabber" mechanism will physically point you to the right spot when you need it later. It turns a chaotic shelf of screws, cables, and spare parts into an effortlessly organized system.

Designed by Sebastian Rentsch,
18 years old from Germany

